24. SWAP-FREE ACCOUNTS

- 24.1. The very nature of leveraged CFD and Forex contracts enables clients to trade on margin without having to hold sufficient funds to cover the full contract value of their position(s). When a trade is opened an initial deposit requirement is calculated as a proportion of the full contract value and must be held as cleared funds within the dealing Account. Therefore, each trade carries with it an element of lending or borrowing, reflecting the difference between the full contract value and the notional value. Financing, interest, and/or swaps, are applied to open positions daily at the close of business as a consequence of trading on margin.
- 24.2. If a Client cannot pay or receive financing, interest, or swaps due to their observance of Islamic religious beliefs, they may request a 'Swap-Free Account'. The Company reserves the right to request adequate justification and/or proof of the necessity or need for such an Account type. The Company reserves the right, in its sole discretion, for any reason whatsoever, and without justification or explanation, to refuse a request to convert an Account to swap-free status. The Client hereby warrants, accepts, and agrees that a request to convert his/her Account to a swap-free status shall only be made due to the said Islamic religious beliefs and for no other reason whatsoever.
- 24.3. Furthermore, the Company reserves the right to revoke the swap-free status granted to any real trading Account at any time without being obliged to provide any explanation or justification, and in its sole discretion close any open positions and/or the Account(s). Such action may be taken based on, but is not limited to, the following criteria: the Client's trading history, products traded, market conditions, and where trades are held open for more than 7 days.
- 24.4. Furthermore, in the event that the Company, in its opinion, detects any form of abuse, fraud, manipulation, 'interest'/'cash-back arbitrage', or any other form of deceitful or fraudulent activity in regard to any and all swap-free Accounts held by the Client, the Company reserves the right, without prior verbal or written notice, at any time, to take the following actions:
 - (i) with immediate effect, to revoke the swap-free status from any and all real trading Accounts of such Client;

- (ii) correct and recover any un-accrued Swaps and any related un-accrued interest expenses and/or costs pertaining to any and all of such Client's swap-free trading Accounts during the period for which such Accounts were live;
- (iii) apply a commission, swap, or other fee to any open or new positions;
- (iv) convert any swap-free Accounts to normal trading Accounts;
- (v) prohibit or limit hedging positions;
- (vi) with immediate effect, close all trading Accounts held by the Client with the Company, nullify all trades carried out in the Client's trading Accounts with the Company and cancel any and all profits or losses garnered in Client's trading Accounts with the Company.

The Customer hereby acknowledges that he/she shall bear all costs derived from the aforementioned actions, including but not limited to, the cost of the change of the spread.

- 25.3. The Company reserves the right, at its sole and absolute discretion and for any reason whatsoever, to change Client's Account type upon giving three (3) days' written notice (the "Account Change Notice Period"). As part of the Account change, Client may select an Account type from the Account options provided by the Company. If the Company does not receive Client's agreement to change the Account type during the Account Change Notice Period, then the Company may suspend or close Client's Account immediately upon the expiration of the Account Change Notice Period. As a condition of moving to the new Account type, Client shall be required to accept the Terms & Conditions that are applicable to the new Account before they can continue their trading activity.

25.6. Upon termination any or all of the following may apply:

- (1) The Company has the right to combine any Client Accounts of the Client, to consolidate the balances in such Client Accounts and to set off those balances with obligations of the Client towards the Company;

26. MARKET ABUSE

26.1. The Company strictly prohibits any form of market abuse by its clients, including but not limited to the following trading activities:

- (a) Scalping: Clients are prohibited from engaging in rapid buying and selling of financial instruments within short timeframes to profit from price movements. Such practices disrupt market integrity and are considered abusive.

- (f) Arbitrage: Clients are prohibited from exploiting price discrepancies across different markets or platforms in a manner that undermines market integrity.

26.2. The Company reserves the right to take appropriate action, including but not limited to Account suspension, termination, correcting, recovering, and/or applying costs to any amounts generated from any form of market abuse, termination of any promotions, and legal proceedings, against any Client found to be engaging in market abuse activities. 29. GOVERNING LAW and JURISDICTION

29.1. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the Seychelles. The Client hereby submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Seychelles.

30. PREVAILING LANGUAGE

- 30.1. If any of the terms or conditions set forth within this Agreement were to be translated into a language other than English, then the English version will be controlling in all respects and will prevail in the event of discrepancies and/or inconsistencies between the English and translated versions, if any. Client hereby agrees that under no circumstances shall the Company be responsible for any damage or loss caused by any error, inaccuracy, misunderstanding, or misspelling resulting from or related to translations of this Agreement.

31. RISK DISCLOSURE and CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

- 31.1. The risk of loss in investing in leverage (margin) traded markets can be substantial. You should carefully consider whether such investments are suitable for you in the light of your circumstances and financial resources.
- 31.2. If you have pursued only conservative forms of investment in the past, you should study currency trading further before continuing an investment of this nature. You could lose all funds you deposit as initial margin as well as substantial amounts of capital when trading currencies if the market goes against your investment. You may also be liable for losses that exceed the amount of margin you post. If you wish to continue with your investment, you confirm that the funds you have committed are purely risk capital and loss of your investment will not jeopardize your style of living nor will it detract from your future retirement program. Additionally, you fully understand the nature and risks of currency investments, and your obligations to others will not be neglected should you suffer investment losses.
- 31.3. You should be aware in particular of the following points:

1. Leverage

High Leverage and low Margin can result in significant losses due to small price fluctuations in the traded products. High Leverage allows the Customer to assume more risk, magnifying both losses and profits; which can result in loss up to and in excess of Deposits and Margin. The Customer must consider that if the trend on the market is against him/her the Customer may sustain a total loss of the initial margin funds and any additional funds deposited to maintain open positions. The Customer is responsible for all his/her risks, financial resources he/she uses and for the chosen trading strategy.

2. Market Risk

Because of sharp and substantial changes in currency rates the Client's orders may be executed at the rates which differ significantly from stated in the orders. For example, in the case when the price breaks out of the trading range and leaves on the chart an empty space with no trading activity (such situation is called gap). The order will be executed at the price first appeared after gap. Likewise placing orders for reducing losses/profits may be inefficient as market conditions may make it impossible to execute these orders.

3. Technical Risk

The Client accepts the risk caused by software or telecommunications facilities failures as well as by other technical problems. The Company is not responsible for Client's losses sustained due to non-observance of instructions included in the Ghost Trader client terminal user guide. The Client accepts the risk of executing unplanned trading transactions in the case of repeating an order before the last order processing results were received. The Client must keep passwords and ensure that third parties will not have access to the trading system. The Client will be subject to the trading obligation, assumed by him/her on the one part and by the Company on the other part, executed using Client's password even if the password was used by a third party. The Client realizes that the information en Clair (sent via email, instant messenger service) is not protected from unauthorized access.

4. Force Majeure

The Company is not responsible for Client's losses sustained due to force majeure such as (included but not limited to): acts of wars, riots, civil disorders, labor disputes, blockades, embargoes, terrorist activities, civil insurrection, rebellions or revolutions natural disasters, financial market trading stops, currency interventions, government decisions, instability on financial markets with rapid drops of liquidity, and other significant changes of counter agents working process or any other similar cause beyond the reasonable control of such party.

The brief statement above does not disclose all the risks of investment in margin trading markets. You should be responsible and carefully consider such investment before you commit funds for trading on margin.

31.4. The Client acknowledges that:

1. The client agrees that the Client Agreement, Risk Disclosure Statement and Client Acknowledgement are the one agreement.
2. The client confirms and agrees that he/she has read all the pages and understood the Client Agreement, Risk Disclosure Statement and acknowledges it.
3. The client acknowledges that they are beneficial owner of all monies deposited with the Company and if not wholly owned then Client will request approval from the Company.
4. The Client confirms that it does not have any disputed Accounts or unsolved issues.

5. The Client confirms that all information provided in this agreement is accurate and true.

32. SIGNATURE and ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS

- 32.1. Subject to Applicable Laws and Regulations, if electronic signatures are used in communication between us, such communication is binding as if it were in writing. Orders or instructions given by you via e-mail, phone, or other accepted electronic means, will constitute evidence of the Orders or instructions given.
- 32.2. Acceptance of these Terms or other documents including the Company's policies via electronic means such as, but not limited to, tick box on the Website and Portal, or acceptance through email or on the Platform shall constitute evidence of your acceptance of these Terms, policies, and other legal documents, respectively.
- 32.3. The Company may from time to time update its Terms and Conditions, policies, and other agreements. The latest version of the Terms will be posted on our website (www.tradetaurex.com).
